Soups On!!

Did you know that the soup you enjoy in your Café is cooked from scratch every day, in your kitchen, by your Dana Chef, using fresh, local ingredients?

It seems such a small thing but it says everything about why we do what we do in over 100 Cafes across Canada every day. Scratch cooking isn't just a slogan for Dana. It defines our culture. It's the cornerstone of every behaviour and business practice in our organization.

Because we cook from scratch we source and purchase local, fresh, raw ingredients for your chef to work with. The safest, most nutritious and most flavourful ingredients are locally sourced and fresh. Do you know where the "chicken" in canned or packaged soup comes from? Does it even taste like chicken?

Because we cook from scratch your Chef is empowered to do what they have been trained for and you benefit from having a culinary expert creating your menu every day. It's how we attract and keep some of the best Chefs in Canada. Anyone can push the button on a microwave to cook a processed entrée.

Because we cook from scratch we can tell you what ingredients are in your dish without running to the fridge to look at the box. We manage salt and fat content to ensure you have healthier options.

Because we cook from scratch your Dana Chef customizes your Café menu, for you. Your Chef prioritizes purchasing decisions based on high quality and freshness of ingredients rather than cheap alternatives from sources outside of Canada. Your Chef creates your menu this week for next week based on your preferences.

Because we cook from scratch we encourage you to talk to your Chef. Ask about today's soup. A lot goes into every pot!!

Event Catering Adds the WOW factor!

Juri Daniel, Executive Vice President is delighted to introduce Hamish Macfie our new Director of Catering Operations. Hamish has a wealth of experience building and operating his own catering business and special event catering for larger corporate groups. From fine dining at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, catering for golf's elite at the PGA Canadian Open, to corporate BBQ's for 10,000 employees, Hamish's experience will lead us in providing new levels of service for our clients and position us well to cater large scale events.

Hamish will be fine tuning our catering capability to help our clients create "the buzz" at meetings and special event gatherings that will make them memorable. Buzz happens when fabulous, great tasting food is served in innovative ways by professional staff, who love to be of service. Best of all these special offerings can come direct from your on-site kitchens.

If your facilities do not have the capabilities for larger catered events, we can now service your needs from another location and provide these same great offerings in off premise situations. Whether it's a BBQ in a nearby park or a high-end sit down dinner in a local museum we have the resources to meet your needs.

The extra added touches can make a huge difference. Consider the thrill of using high end crystal, silver cutlery, or Frette linens. The service staff will be professionals, whether its buffet, plate service or Russian service, the proper presentation and delivery is important. Themed décor can make that first impression everlasting. We can now manage 100% of the details so you don't have to.

For more information or to assist you with an upcoming event please contact your onsite Chef/Manager or contact Hamish Macfie, Director, Catering Operations directly at specialeventscatering@danahospitality.ca
